AND ARGENTINE NEWS.

[No. 986.]

BUENOS AYRES, SATURDAY, JULY 12th, 1845.

Established in 1826.]

BUENOS AYRES.

We have no news to communicate this week to our distant readers, of any flattering nature as regards the much-talked-of pacification of La Plata. Although the realization of this long-desired event is exclusively dependent on functionaries professedly sent for this specific purpose, no step has yet been taken to remove the obstacles in the way of its accomplishment. The same state of things that existed before their arrival, still remains—A vanquished foe replaced by a foreign armament in Montevideo, and the British and French naval forces upholding that scandal by interfering to prevent the exercise of the belligerent rights of the victorious power; whilst this power is acknowledged to be an independent nation, and has accredited to it diplomatists of the highest rank, who declare that their sovereigns have nothing more at heart than the consolidation of the friendly relations hitherto subsisting between them and it! This is an anomaly we are utterly at a loss to explain, and we will therefore leave our readers to draw their own conclusions.

At a General Meeting held in the School-rooms of the British Episcopal Church, on Wednesday, the 2d inst., on the business of the British Medical Dispensary, it was resolved that Daniel Gowland, Esq. be requested to take the Chair.

The Treasurer's account was submitted and passed; a copy of which is subjoined.

The Report was read, which gave an account of the proceedings of the past year, especially with respect to the experiment which has been made of providing an Infirmary for the reception of the destitute sick. This Institution is reported as having commenced to work in a very satisfactory manner; and the British public are called upon, in their several spheres, to contribute to its improvement, and make it still more efficient. It is hoped that the wealthy will be encouraged by the result of their former efforts to continue to cheer on the Institution in its course; and that persons who have received the benefits of the charity will themselves assist, and induce their friends to contribute to the support of an establishment whose necessity they know by experience. Several statistical details were added, showing that the number of patients received last year, was 127; of whom 94 had been discharged wholly cured, or much benefitted, 17 had died, and been buried at the expense of the Dispensary, and 16 remained under medical treatment. The largest number of patients received at one time was 22; the smallest 12; the average number of inmates of the Infirmary, 15. Of the patients 52 were sailors, who appear especial objects of the Society's regards. It has been found necessary to admit none but British subjects into the Infirmary. The total expenditure of the year has been $40,827, but a considerable part of this being for furniture, will not appear in the expenditure of future years, as the Society is now in possession of furniture and apparatus of various kinds for 20 patients. The Committee express themselves highly satisfied with the management of the Matron, and consider that, under the direction of the Visiting Committee, she is fully competent to continue in charge of the patients unless their number should be much increased. Several patients have paid their own expenses, at the rate of $10 a day, and $8,500 have been paid to the Treasurer in this way. The Society has continued to afford relief to out-patients as in former years. The Medical Attendant has made 231 visits to poor persons, in their own houses, and medicines have been supplied to the amount of $530. The Report concludes with a hope that an Institution whose necessity is so manifest, and which, under the Divine Blessing, has been able to apply the generosity of the British public to so good purpose, will not be allowed to wane or stop short in its career of mercy.

It was resolved that the Report be approved.

The Meeting being called upon to name a Committee for the ensuing year, it was resolved, that in addition to the three ex-officio members, the following be requested to serve:

Mr. Alfred Barber, Mr. Fred. Hughes,
Mr. Geo. Dowdall, Mr. Rob. McClymont,
Mr. Peter Dick, Mr. John Nuttal,
Mr. John Wyatt Smith.

The Rules and Regulations of the Dispensary being read, it was resolved that the Meeting approve of the same, and extend to the new Committee the authority delegated by the 31st article.

The cordial thanks of the Meeting were presented to Mr. Frederick Hargrave, the late Secretary, for his most valuable and unremitting services.

The Medical Gentlemen were assured that the Meeting highly appreciated their assiduous attention to the patients.

Mr. Hudson was then called upon to take the Chair, and a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Daniel Gowland, for his kindness in consenting to preside, and for his able assistance to the Institution, and his interest in its proceedings.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

The 69th Anniversary of the Declaration of the Independence of the United States of America, was celebrated by the Citizens of that country resident in Buenos Ayres, in an appropriate and imposing manner.

At 4, P. M. a large company assembled at the house of the Hon. Wm. BRENT, Jr., the Chargé d'Affaires, and we were pleased to see a number of American ladies, and distinguished Officers of this Government, both Military and Civil.

Col. Joseph Graham, the newly appointed Consul to this Port, made a most feeling and patriotic address, and read the Declaration of Independence in an impressive manner. A fac-simile copy of the Original Document and the signatures, was on the chimney-piece near the speaker, and elicited much attention.

At 5, P. M. the company proceeded to the Argentine Theatre, which, on entering, presented a most magnificent coup d'oeil. The pit, closed in by a drapery of white and red cloth, in alternate folds, formed a superb saloon, richly carpeted. The boxes, festooned with the same colours; and from the galleries hung in graceful waves the flags of every nation. In the centre, a chandelier of more than one hundred lights, and many smaller ones, gave to the whole the brilliancy of day.

At the head of the Table was the likeness of the great and good WASHINGTON, and the picture of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in the Old State House, Philadelphia. The flags of the United States and Argentine Confederation formed a beautiful drapery to those pictures. On the right were the portraits of Gen. Rosas, La Fayette, &c., and both sides, right and left, were filled with appropriate picture of Revolutionary heroes, statesmen, and battles of America and Europe.

The proscenium was decorated in the same manner as the head of the table—the united flags of the two Republics forming a beautiful relief to the portrait of Gen. Rosas, supported on the right by that of Gen. Belgrano, and on the left, by that of the brave Admiral Brown. Behind these were placed on the stage the band of the Guardia Argentina, twenty-two in number, who, during the evening, played in their accustomed manner the National airs of both countries.

The Table was of just proportions, elegantly ornamented with vases, temples, &c., displaying the flags of the United States and Argentine Republic—and at quarter past five, the Rev. Mr. Norris having asked a blessing, the company sat down to one of the most splendid banquets ever served in Buenos Ayres, provided by those well-known caterers, Lemmon & Plunket, of Thorndike's quinta.

Among the invited guests present were the Minister of Finance, Don Manuel Insiarte, the under Secretaries of State, Don Manuel Garrigos, and Don Manuel Irigoyen, the Captain of the Port Don Pedro Ximeno, Generals Mansilla, Pinedo and Soler, Don Juan Larrazabal, Don Idefonso Isla, Don Miguel Riglos, Don Sagasta, Messrs. Daniel Gowland, J. M. Francis Halbach, John Eastman, &c. &c.

The company remained till a late hour, and the utmost enthusiasm, hilarity and decorum prevailed; the enjoyment of the evening was very much heightened by the patriotic songs and concerted pieces of five gentlemen, who had volunteered to give effect to this reunion.

The President of the day, F. W. Dominick, Esq., read in English, and Benj. Carman, Esq., the Vice-President, in Spanish, the following

REGULAR TOASTS—

I. The fourth of July, 1776—That day opened a new era in the history of nations. The rejoicing hearts of twenty millions of freemen on this 69th anniversary tests the hazardous experiment "that men can govern for themselves."

(Marseilles Hymn—by orchestra and company.)

IV. The Heroes and Statesmen of the Revolution. Their noble deeds and patriotic sacrifices have no antecedent in history.

(Death of Warren.)

V. The Constitution of the United States of America. The compass which must guide those at the helm of State to preserve the Union from shipwreck.
(Hail Columbia—by the band.)

VI. The Heroes of the War of 1812—They proved to a proud foe, there is a point beyond which endurance is no longer a virtue. We met the enemy and they were ours. (9 cheers.)
(Star spangled banner—by Amateurs.)

VII. The President of the United States. The most elevated situation in the world—it is the gift of freemen. (9 cheers.)
(Yankee Doodle.)

VIII. The United States of America, our country right or wrong, our country. (9 cheers.)
(The United States.)

IX. The Argentine Confederation. Having freed herself from the thralldom of the mother country, the hand of fellowship was first extended by the United States, and a nation was called into existence, she will not relinquish that independence so nobly and successfully contended for. (9 cheers.)
(Argentine Hymn—by the band and company.)

X. The Army and Navy of the United States. When required they will not be found wanting. (9 cheers.)
(Naval Song.)

XI. Our Commercial Marine. The best school for naval heroes. Thence sprang a Truxton, a Preble, a Hall, and a Stewart. They must and will be cherished.

(Star spangled banner—by the band.)

XII. Commerce, Agriculture and Manufactures. Undue favoritism to one is prejudicial to all.
(Music.)

XIII. Woman—In all climes it is she who shares our joy and soothes our grief. The women of the American continent are not surpassed. (Continued cheers) Drink to me only.

Mr. Dorr, of the Committee of Arrangement, read an expressive letter from General Rosas, regretting that the state of his health and incessant occupation would prevent him participating with his North American friends in the celebration of the day. The following toast by the Committee was drunk with great enthusiasm:—

The Governor General of the Province of Buenos Ayres, General Don Juan Manuel Rosas. The faithful defender of his country's honour, and independence. (9 cheers.)

Letters were also read from Mr. Arana, General Aleman, Col. Caceres, Messrs. Bernal, Rodewald, &c., &c., regretting their absence, and toasts to each were drank.

Doctor Don Felipe Arana, Minister of Foreign Affairs—The accomplished gentleman and profound statesman.

General Aleman, Chief of Police—The vigilant protector of person and property.

Colonel Caceres—The brave soldier.

Charles Rodewald, Esq.—The honorable merchant.

Don Pedro Bernal, Collector of the Customs—His urbanity endears him to every one.

During the Dinner there were many excellent speeches, which were received with much enthusiasm, but our space makes it necessary to abridge the toasts, which we regret, as much of their force is lost by translation.

By Don Manuel Insiarte—The 4th of July, 1776—The grand and heroic Declaration of the Independence of the United States of America, forms a brilliant page in the History of American Revolution—I drink the happiness, felicity, and social prosperity of the first free nation of the new world, and that of the present President, so distinguished by the free vote of his fellow-citizens.

By Wm. Brent, Jr., Chargé d'Affaires, &c. of the United States of America—

The American Republics—"Those who give up essential liberty to purchase a little temporary safety, deserve neither berty nor safety."

By General Mansilla—The sovereignty and independence of the Argentine Republic in their fullest extent, and may no European intervention be permitted to interfere with its affairs.

By the same—Freedom of Religious opinion.

By Manuel Rodrigues, the Bolivian Chargé d'Affaires—

The Great and Immortal Washington and La Fayette, with their fellow-labourers—They have the veneration and sympathy of all free men and lovers of principles.

By General Pinedo—The Glory and Happiness of the United States of America.

By Don Augustin Garrigos—Health and prosperity to James K. Polk, the worthy President of the United States, and may the ties of friendship which bind the Republics of the United States and Argentine be indissoluble.

By Don Pedro de Angelis—The illustrious founders and unconquerable defenders of the American Independence in both hemispheres.

By Don Miguel de Riglos—The Memory of Richard Henry Lee, the glorious mover of the Declaration of Independence.

By Señor Irigoyen—Firm resistance to any European power who may wish to re-establish the Colonial Government in America, and interfere with questions purely domestic.

By Mr. Larrazabal—The illustrious republican patriots who signed the Declaration of the Independence of the United States; to the principles which have been proclaimed by the Government of that great American Nation, and that we, the sons of America will never, not even amidst the glorious ruins of the most bloody and frightful desolation, consent to its dishonour and its slavery.

By Mr. Sagasta—The memory of the illustrious patriots who proclaimed the liberty and independence of America, and with their blood sustained it—they will always preserve themselves from any foreign rule.

Mr. Amory Edwards, Consul of the U. S. took leave of his countrymen in a feeling speech, and gave—Friendship between the Governments of the United States and the Argentine Confederation; may the cords be each day drawn more closely—We are sister Republics, but in time of need the former will prove a strong brother.

By Mr. Tenker—Col. Joseph Graham, our newly appointed Consul.

The Col. in returning thanks said—

Mr. President.—Permit me, through you, to return my thanks to the gentleman who has so kindly alluded to me in the sentiment just read, and to all present for the gratifying manner in which it has been received. I rejoice that the present opportunity has been afforded for expressing my gratitude to my fellow-citizens residing here, and to the inhabitants of this beautiful city, for the hospitable manner in which I have been received and welcomed.

Although I am thousands of leagues from the place of my birth, and the home of my fathers, and in a country entirely new to me, still the kindness of my fellow-citizens, and of the sons of the soil, has rendered it almost impossible for me to realize that I am a stranger in a strange land.

Before leaving my home I was prepared to be pleased with this country. For, although I was about to take up my abode in a new hemisphere, still I was not leaving the "New World," and I was bound to a portion of the continent which, like my own dear country, had had the spirit to assert and the valour to maintain its independence of trans-Atlantic domination; but I can truly say that my favourable anticipations have been more than realized.

The only return I can hope to make for your kindness and hospitality, will be by endeavouring faithfully to discharge the duties with which I have been intrusted by my Government.

Although I cannot promise you the advantage of the experience and knowledge of my predecessor, whose appropriate and eloquent remarks have this evening elicited so much deserved attention and approbation, still I trust you will not find me less zealous in promoting the commercial interests of my own country, or in striving to merit the good opinion of this Government by a due respect for her laws, and an abstinence from all interference in her domestic affairs.

In saying this much, I am aware that I am liberal in promise, but if you find me failing in performance, be assured that it will be attributable to a lack of ability, rather than disposition.

Permit me, Sir, in conclusion, to propose a sentiment—

The United States and the Argentine Confederation—They were both born in the month of July, cradled in similar dangers, and nursed by the same goddess of liberty. May they be as immortal as the truths in their declarations of independence, and may their every succeeding birth-day witness their increased prosperity and happiness, and their conduct and relations such that the world shall see and admire their sisterly affection.

By Don. Idefonso Isla—The exalted principles of the fifty-six immortal delegates who signed the declaration of the United States' independence. May those principles govern the world, as the compass the mariner, and may they link us together to resist and root up all European intervention in the affairs of America.

By Merit Parker—Admiral Brown, the bravest of the brave—his gallant deeds are written in the hearts of all true republicans, his sailors love him, his foes fear him.

By Adison Dorr—Doña Manuela de Rosas.

By W. I. Livingston—Doña Agustina Rosas de Mancilla.

By B. Carman, V. P.—The memory of Bolivar, it will long live in the memory of Republics.

By the same—The health of General Balivian, the President of the Bolivian Republic.

By John Langdon—The ladies of Buenos Ayres, beautiful, heroic and hospitable.

By J. C. Flint—International law of right and sovereignty. May they never be disregarded by those best able to sustain them, and may the star spangled banner ever wave triumphantly in their defence.

By Henry J. Ropes—Henry Clay, the ardent defender and advocate of the South American Republics.

By —The Cincinnati of the present day—General Andrew Jackson.

By B. Carman, V. P.—Queen Victoria.

By J. M. Moss—Universal education, the safeguard of true liberty.

By John Eastman—May the arms of England never clash with those of the Argentine Republic.

SCRAPS.

"What is meant by 'alluvial deposit?'" said an honest fellow, who had just come from the York Geographical Festival, the other day. "Oh," replied his friend, "how can you ask such a question?—the meaning is as clear as 'mud.'"

"What's that?" said a schoolmaster pointing to the letter X. "Daddy's name." "No it isn't your daddy's name, you blockhead—it's X." "I'll be shot if it is. It's daddy's name—blowed if it ain't. I've seen him write it often."

"You are no gentleman," said an angry disputant to his antagonist. "Are you?" quietly asked the other. "Yes, I am, sir." "Then I am not," was the caustic reply.

"Ma, what does cousin John hug sister Bridget so for?" "La! Simon, you have such eyes—he's only courting her, child." "Golly gracious, ma! don't he court her hard though?"

Gogan and Gillo's NOVARGENT,

Or Silver Solution, for re-silvering articles plated on copper, by immediately depositing a coating of pure silver; and for preserving and cleansing plate, plated goods, and German silver.
Price—small bottle, 1s; or bottle, containing four times the quantity, 3s.

THIS preparation instantly re-silverers worn-out plate, restoring to their original appearance articles which would otherwise be perfectly useless. Unlike every other preparation yet introduced to public notice, Gogan and Gillo's Novargent actually produces a coating of pure silver; thus prolonging the use of plated ware to an indefinite period.

It is also particularly recommended for cleaning silver and German silver, as it possesses highly cleansing properties, without containing mercury or any substance injurious to the article on which it may be employed. It deposits pure silver, and does not remove it, as is the case with all plate powders, though they produce a whiteness, from the quantity of mercury they contain. It has been highly approved of by Dr. Ryan, Professor of Chemistry to the Royal Polytechnic Institution, and other eminent chemists and silversmiths.
Sold at No. 55, Calle Piedra.
