MILLARD FILLMORE
President of the United States.

To His Excellency, the President of the Argentine Confederation.

Great and Good Friend!
I have made choice of Robert C. Schenck, one of our most distinguished citizens, and Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Santa Fe, to proceed to Buenos Ayres on business connected with the well being of our respective countries. I earnestly pray you will endeavor to give credence to whatever Mr. Schenck shall say to us on our part, and most of all when he shall recite to your Excellency our ardent desire to maintain unimpaired and to strengthen the friendly Relations which fortunately exist between the United States and the Argentine Confederation.

And so I pray God to have your Excellency to his safe and holy keeping.

Given at Washington, the twenty ninth day of April, A. D. 1852.

Your Good Friend,
MILLARD FILLMORE.

By the President,
"Daniel Webster, Secretary of State."

On presenting the above Mr. Schenck addressed H. E. the Provisional Director in the following terms—

"My Supreme Director—
The letter of Credence which I am about to deliver to your Excellency, as the head of the Argentine Confederation, is from the President of the United States, earnest and propitious themselves in the enjoyment of free and liberal institutions of government, can to be said to be the basis of the principles, it is as emphatically whatever movement or change, in any country, appears to have for its object the organization of a society of similar guarantees for freedom. And these sentiments are naturally dependent on the world's single Republic on the same Continent.

Between free neighboring powers, founded and administered on the same principles, it is the dictate as well of propriety as of an enlightened national policy, to draw closely & establish more firmly the bonds of friendship and good understanding.

Actuated by such considerations, the President of the United States has instructed me to present myself, with the necessary powers conferred for that purpose, to cooperate with you in the discharge of the duties of Representative of the United States already accredited to this government.

It is hoped that this special mission, on which, as your Excellency will perceive by my credentials, I am sent while honored by your Government with a high diplomatic position at another court, and this association of that gentleman in the trust, will be regarded as evincing, in the same line, the satisfaction of the President with his course, and an ardent desire to strengthen further the friendly relations now so happily existing between the two countries.

To which the Provisional Director made the following appropriate reply—

"My Minister—
The Argentine Republic has always been held in the People of the United States, a touching example of the importance liberal institutions are to its prosperity and advancement.

It is held that with the greatest interest in that said Nation belongs to the great American family. On that account, and with a friendly feeling, we sympathize with those that govern the Argentine Confederation, it has always merited from the latter a special consideration.

The political change that was effected on the memorable 3d of February, had no other object than to render effective the liberal institutions proclaimed from Y. E., who has merited the confidence of a high political position near another American Government. The association with Y. E., who has merited the confidence of a high political position near another American Government, is a motive of satisfaction to his Government.

It will always afford me satisfaction, Mr. Minister, to render available my social position, that the union of the Argentine Confederation with the United States of North America, may daily be drawn closer, for the reciprocal benefit of the two countries."

Viva la Confederation Argentina!
Consulate General of the Argentine Confederation.

Bordeaux, May 16th, 1852.

The undersigned, Consul general, in conformity with the instructions he has received from his Government, in consequence of the suspicious change that has taken place in the policy and administration of his country, after the fall of Rosas, has the honor of addressing Your Honor, to request that you will submit to the knowledge of His Highness the Prince, President of the Republic, the sincere desires that animate the Government of Buenos Ayres, for the maintenance of the good relations with France, and with the other nations of the world.

It is in this conviction that it is resolved to employ all its efforts, and confines itself on this occasion to manifesting the sentiments of friendship and good will that are henceforth to characterize its foreign relations.

The undersigned, in consequence of the excellent relations expressed in the programme of his new Government, which is justly surrounded by the sympathy of the inhabitants of the Plate, doubts not that the commercial relations of the Argentine Confederation with France, are destined speedily to acquire greater importance and a more extensive development.

The undersigned also requests the Minister to admit the sincere assurance of his sincere and devoted attachment.

E. M. DE SANTA COLONA,
To the Minister of Foreign Relations.

Paris, May 27, 1852.

SI—I had the honor of receiving the note which you wrote to me on the 19th May, and to acquit me of the intention of the new Government of the Argentine Confederation, in animated thanks to France, and to express to me the desire to acquire greater importance and development.

I could not better reply to the communication, than by announcing to you, that the St. George in the Plate, has departed to occupy his destination, the disposition which you assure me, and which I receive with pleasure, cannot fail to facilitate the fulfillment of the mission confided to me.

Admit, Sir, the assurance of my very distinguished consideration.

TURBOT,
Minister of Foreign Relations.
