BUENOS AYRES, SATURDAY, JANUARY 13, 1853.

[Established in 1826.]

OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS.

[Copy.] British Legation, Buenos Ayres, 3d of January, 1853.
The Undersigned, Her Britannick Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires to the Argentine Confederation, has the honour to inform His Excellency Brigadier Don Manuel G. Pinto, Provisional Governor of the Province of Buenos Ayres, that at 2 p.m., on the 30th instant, he received a verbal communication from Dr. Don Lorenzo Torres, Minister of Government, which was delivered to the Undersigned by Mr. Don Lorenzo Torres, the nature of which was so extraordinary and unforeseen that he desired Mr. Hood to give him a written account of what took place at the interview which he had with Dr. Don Lorenzo Torres, and which the Undersigned now has the honour to transmit to His Excellency.

The Undersigned would not have taken the liberty of writing His Excellency but that he had received no official communication of the formation of the new Ministry which has been done on former occasions.

Dr. Don Lorenzo Torres states that public opinion has marked the Undersigned as a dangerous man, having connection with the enemies of the Government, and fomenting and encouraging the present Revolution.

The Undersigned, in the most solemn manner, denies the accusation; but he did certainly use his best endeavours indirectly with both Parties to come to an honourable arrangement of the present state of affairs without having recourse to the aid of brothers, which can be so little spared in this country.

Dr. Don Lorenzo Torres states that innumerable accusations are made against the Undersigned which are not only untrue but which the Minister did not wish to credit; but when accusations of such a grave nature it might be necessary for a Government to think of expelling from the Country the Representative of the Government of a Nation on the most friendly relations with the Government to whom he is accredited, surely it ought to require some stronger proof than were idle, insidious stories, before it takes a step so violent and which would tend to the most disagreeable result. If, as Dr. Torres says, the life of the Undersigned is in danger, from an attack upon his person, and which it is impossible for the Government at present, the Undersigned must take such steps as he may have in his power to defend himself.

When the august Sovereign of the Undersigned, was pleased to appoint him as Her Britannick Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires to the Argentine Confederation, and the Government of the Argentine Confederation was pleased to acknowledge and receive the Undersigned as such it would be impossible for the Undersigned to leave his Post without compromising the dignity and honour, and was forced to do so.

The Undersigned Her Britannick Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires to the Argentine Confederation really himself, in consequence of a letter to offer to His Excellency Brigadier Don Manuel G. Pinto, the assurance of his high consideration.

(Signed) ROBERT GORE.

[Copy.] Buenos Ayres, 3d January, 1853.
Sir,
In conformity with your request I have the pleasure to make you acquainted with what occurred last night at the official interview with Dr. Torres to which I had been called by

At 10 p.m. I went to the Government House where I found Dr. Torres waiting for me, and he commenced by telling me that he had been troubled me, but he thought that the importance of the matter was a sufficient excuse.

He then said that public opinion had marked me as a dangerous man, having connection with the enemies of the Government, and fomenting and encouraging the present Revolution; that the Government and he, as Minister, did not wish to credit the numerous accusations made against you but the present situation has made it necessary that it should become absolutely necessary that you should absent yourself from this City. This was necessary, he said, in order to prevent the Government to prevent any serious attack being made upon your person which might easily be done and which none would regret more than himself but which it was quite impossible to prevent in the present state of the public feeling, more particularly as you have been in the habit of going about Town alone at late hours of the night.

He said that the applications duly made to him were numerous to remove you from Buenos Ayres; but that he had not wished to accede to this wish, universally expressed, because he desired to do nothing which might be construed into a want of respect towards Her Majesty's Government, a Government which he respected and with whom he wished to avoid any differences or misunderstanding, more particularly in moments like the present. On the other hand, that your position in Buenos Ayres was an anomalous one, you were accredited to the chief of the State who has been declared by the General Urquiza, whom you recognize as such, that neither you recognize the Government of Buenos Ayres, as a Government to which you are accredited, nor do this Government recognize you in your official capacity.

When you say that you are a Britian Agent but that this is not your district and that therefore, you are only here as a transiente (passenger) that this special case would have, for justify him in sending to you your passports with an intimation to leave the Country for which purpose he did not wish to adopt this course and he hoped that another plan which would have had the same effect, without being offensive either to you personally or to the Government, would have been adopted.

He then desired me to see you officially to state to you what he had told me, and to give you leave to take up your passports to leave the Country voluntarily for a short period, seeing the Government both in terms and in fact did not wish to see themselves sending your Passports to you, which might have been regarded as disrespectful and to Her Majesty's Government. He added that he felt certain that you would refer yourself to this because you could not be ignorant of the state of public opinion, and that no person ought to be more desirous than yourself to see the Government which is interested to the maintenance of friendly relations with this Government and that of Her Majesty, more especially when the most moderate course possible had been adopted by them in making this friendly verbal intimation to you to leave the Country of a personal friend and Her Majesty's Consul.

He concluded by begging me to perform this service which he earnestly trusted would have the desired effect.

Having applied to him for a written statement of what he has just said to me, I am now, stating that if he assigned what he said to paper, he could not then adopt this moderate course but would be compelled at once to send you your passports.

I expressed to him my regret that the Government did not send you your passports against you; and that excitement among the people should have risen to such a state, which was obliged to do so to him were not, in my belief, founded in just cause as I consider you free from any imputations, but that he desired me to see you officially with his request wishing him to understand at the same time that I should find it my duty to communicate this subject officially to Her Majesty's Government.

He thanked me for the services, I should regret to say, that you had not accepted and declared that he desired not to see that Her Majesty's Government should be made fully acquainted with all that had occurred.

Here the conversation on this matter ended and after arranging some other matters of business took my leave of him.

I have the honour, &c., (Signed) MARTIN T. HOOD.

The Honourable Robert Gore, &c., &c., &c.

Ministry of Government and Office of Foreign Relations, Buenos Ayres, Jan. 6th, 1853.
To the Charge d'Affaires of H. E. M. the Honourable Robert Gore.

H. E. the Governor of the Province recieves the letter of the Honorable Robert Gore, in which, on manifesting the verbal communication which the British Consul transmitted to you, Your Honesty would have a copy of the written statement which the Consul forwarded gave you; gives explanations as to the nature of the communication to Government to send said communication to

Y. H., and makes some observations for the purpose of showing the inopportune you find in departing from this Province.

The Government of the Undersigned has carefully informed itself as to this note of Your Honour, and after serious consideration on so grave a subject, has ordered the Undersigned to manifest to Y. H. the suitable resolution it has adopted of not allowing the residence of Y. H. in this City, founded on the powerful reasons of which you are already aware, from the verbal communication transmitted to Y. H., in the name of his Government, by the Consul of H. B. M., and from those which the Undersigned gave you, in the conferences which he had had with Y. H.

However painful this step may be to the Government, it could not disregard the public opinion; strong and declared for a length of time against Y. H. as the Undersigned stated to you in the conferences already referred to which you honoured him.

In so delicate a situation, the Government would not comply with its obligations, nor with those imposed upon it by its conscience, in concrete accordance with the public opinion, should it not exact, as the Undersigned does by its order, your Honour's removal from this City for which purpose he has the honor of enclosing in the present, the passport for Y. H. and stating that Y. H. will comply with this duty as soon as he is able.

The Undersigned has also received special orders from Y. H., that in adopting this measure, the Government of Buenos Ayres does not entertain the slightest intention of establishing in any way, in respect short, and consideration to which the Government of H. B. M. is entitled; and on the contrary has found itself compelled to wish to prevent a deplorable perturbation in the good and friendly relations between the two countries, and to recognize the just and the justice of the proceedings of this Government with regard to Y. H.

The Government will opportunely give to that of H. B. M. the requisite explanations respecting this unpleasant incident; and endeavor to have the well-grounded hope that they will be duly appreciated in the high confidence of H. B. M. recognizing the just and justice of the proceedings of this Government with regard to Y. H.

The Undersigned trusts itself with the belief that Y. H., on entering this City, will feel convinced that, in the adoption of this measure, the Government of Buenos Ayres prevailed in the mind of the Government than those of justice and public convenience, which it has personal considerations to which the Honourable Captain Gore is entitled, and which the Undersigned will always feel pleasure in recognizing.

LORENZO TORRES.

[Viva la Republica del Paraguay!]

The Minister Secretary of State, and provisionally of Foreign Relations of the Government of Paraguay.

Asumion, Nov. 26th, 1852.

To H. E. the Minister Secretary of State in the Department of Government of the Province of Buenos Ayres, and Charged with the Office of Foreign Relations.

He had the honour of receiving the estimable note of Y. E., of date the 3d instant, with the welcome communication that, by the law of the Honourable Chamber of Representatives of the Province of Buenos Ayres of the 20th October last, Dr. Don Valentín Alsina was appointed Minister of Government and General, and that he organized the Ministry, naming as Secretary of Foreign Relations, Don Juan Bautista Peña; and General Don José María Flores for that of War and Marine.

Y. H., on giving me this information, in order that I may attach to it the knowledge of H. E. the President of the Republic, assures me that the Government of Buenos Ayres, in its relations with that of this Republic, will feel special satisfaction in acceding to it in the invariable desire it entertains of preserving and maintaining relations that happily subsist, and ought to subsist between communities united by the bonds of blood, religion, and neighborly affection.

The elevation of H. E. Dr. Don Valentín Alsina to the command of the Province of Buenos Ayres, and the appointment of you as he has made of the gentleman who has placidly the Ministry, have afforded much satisfaction to H. E. the President, and he candidly trusts that he will continue the policy of justice, harmony and sincere friendship which H. E. the Governor has cultivated with Paraguay, since his eminent patriotism and adorned literary merit raised him to the Ministry of Government and Foreign Relations, during the command of his worthy predecessor.

The Government of the Republic has the satisfaction of being able to assure Y. E. that it abounds towards that of Buenos Ayres in the same sentiments which Y. E. has manifested.

I avail myself of the opportunity to salute Y. E. with distinguished regards.

BENITO VARELA.

To Dr. Lorenzo Torres.

My Esteemed Comrade and Friend,
Your highly esteemed of the 23d inst., is before me, to which I have the satisfaction of replying.

I regret along with you the suppression of the ideas I had sketched out for my proclamation. I presume said suppression to be the offspring of passibility, and at present, my friends, it is necessary to march boldly and firmly.

I received Reyes, not that I consider myself authorized to receive missions, but even if I could discover any thing that might be of use to our cause, I would not have a conversation I desire the inference, that as a man, I am a man, and what he always been my principles with regard to the policy of my country; but the disappointment he has not felt to influence me satisfaction, as it cannot fail to influence the public, and favours the course of the matters now pending. I have soon commenced my march, with the confident anticipation of a triumphant victory, the same as you, that your new mission to various parts of the country, but I have great faith in my own mission, from the conscientious reasons that accompany it.

As much as I desire to see you at times in precous, and I conclude anticipating my felicitations on our infallible triumph over the tyrants, without country and without honor.

Your Compadre and Friend,

PABLO ROSAS Y BELGRANO.

To Colonel Don Agustín Acosta.

Piarte Acosta, Dec. 30, 1852.

Your very esteemed of date the 25th has come to hand; and informed of its contents, I have the pleasure of replying to you, that Reyes has been seen in my presence of requesting my cooperation in support of the besiegers; an absurd pretension, especially on the part of a man who perfectly knows my sentiments and character; but I must not be so easily deceived by such a pretence of asserting the justness of the cause, and the interest of the just cause which we defend, and which I have seen in the ally, for from our interior we have always been able to detect the inference, that the motives which they have for their cause can only survive so long as we delay in moving against them. My sole and unconquerable aversion is, to see the Republic, if I can only survive so long as we delay in moving against them. My sole and unconquerable aversion is, to see the Republic, if I can only survive so long as we delay in moving against them.

Be pleased to present my kindest regards to said friends, believing me always—

Your attached and sincere Compadre,

PABLO ROSAS Y BELGRANO.

[Viva la Confederation Argentina!]
To Colonel Don Hilario Lago.

My Dear Friend—
In consequence of your esteemed communication, I have determined to send you the enclosed, containing that which brought from Buenos Ayres, to the number of 500, under the command of Colonel Rosales.

As you are so kind as to inform me, and latterly I have my suspicions as to this Chief,
