AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE.

NICARAGUA—THE POSITION OF PRESIDENT WALKER.

The condition of President Walker's affairs, we fear, is not such as to inspire his friends with riotous confidence. After a careful collation of the accounts public and private, received here and at New Orleans, we incline to the belief that his position is far less secure than is generally supposed.

The people who were passive while the mockery of a native Government was ostentatiously maintained by Rivas and Ferrer as its ostensible heads, are restless under the American dictatorship of a foreigner. The American interest seems therefore to have lost all popular sympathy, and to be in a state of defensive hostility against three-fourths of the population, in arms to exterminate it. The largest enumeration of the troops commanded by Walker—all Americans, it is understood—rates them at twelve hundred men. These are tolerably well armed sufficiently clothed, and very nearly starved. Provisions are not to be had; for in the progress of things Granada and Masaya, both recently occupied and pillaged by the enemy, are the only places left in the possession of Walker, who is cut off from the old resource of reckless foraging by the cordon of incensed and implacable foes mustered around him. Sick, tired, and in a state of dejection, he is daily losing the losses in the recent actions are also, we suspect, understated; for we have the names of the officers on the list of killed, and they are entirely out of ordinary proportion with the loss of privates, if the latter is reported truly.

In this enfeebled, crippled, helpless condition, Walker has to make head against a multiplication of assailants. Besides the revolted people, Costa Rica is again pouring her soldiers over the frontier. Guatemala is likewise taking the field, and has already rendered the Isthmus almost untenable for the foreigners, by devastating their only remaining points of occupation. It is from this latter power that Walker has most to apprehend. Many years of peaceful prosperity have enriched its resources; and the people, always inclined to military adventure, find an additional stimulus to action in the dangerous presence on their confines of the Yankee crusader. Par-sighted and daring as is the latter, it must not be forgotten that at the head of the league against him is placed himself a man still more decided generous for war and government, evinced by a lifetime of inviolable success. Rafael Carrera, the President of Guatemala, is really one of the most remarkable men of his age. Originally the swineherd of a mountain hacienda, he availed himself of a popular convulsion to secure the leadership of the Indian faction, and, after a few years' contest, placed his party in power, and was named President by acclamation. On the day of his inauguration he was precisely twenty-two years of age. His administration, though resembling that of Ross in its rigor, has raised his country to a pitch of prosperity unprecedented in the annals of Spanish America; and while thus displaying his political sagacity and wisdom, and his ability to control the turbulence of a Central American mongrel population, he has proved it further by curing his early defects of education, by careful study and self-culture. He is represented to be an accomplished linguist, scholar and jurist.

In the prime of life, and with such antecedents, Walker has an adversary worthy of his steel in Gen. Carrera; and, if our information is reliable, he will very shortly enjoy an opportunity to try conclusions with him. For the main army of Guatemala was reported, at the last advices, to be moving upon Masaya, with the President at its head. Backed by a treasury with a million dollars of surplus inside of it, and a spirited army, well furnished and fed, and native to the pestiferous climate, it seems hardly possible that the uniform success of the Guatemalan chief will desert him now. If not, alas for Walker and his wretched followers! There is no such word as "quarter" in the dialect of Spanish America.

Interesting Revelations from Nicaragua—Gen. Goicoeuria's Disclosures.

The letter from Gen. Goicoeuria, published in the Times of the 24th Nov., throws a new and startling light upon the real objects of the Walker movement in Nicaragua.

Aside from its relation to the affairs of the rival steam boat routes, of which we have already spoken, it confirms, to the fullest extent, what we published as long as the 16th of August, in regard to the ultimate purposes of that crusade. It may be worth while to extract one or two paragraphs from our leading article of that date:

From the Daily Times, Aug. 16.

We have satisfactory evidence that the ultimate object of the Walker expedition to Nicaragua is not so much to conquer that country, as to obtain a footing for a renewed invasion of Cuba. The neutrality laws of the United States were found to interfere seriously and fatally with the project while it was prosecuted in this country. . . . Those who had been the leading men in the crusade against Cuba espoused the Walker movement in Nicaragua. Gen. Goicoeuria, a native Cuban, a man of wealth, ability and character, who had been since his exile the life and soul of the Cuban movement, left New York, which had been his head-quarters, joined Walker in Nicaragua, took command under him, and was engaged in some of the late skirmishes with the Costa Rican troops. At the same time the Administration reversed its policy, ignored the not recognizing Walker's government, received his Minister, and proclaimed its purpose to regard his rule as an established fact. . . . The plan is to avoid the appearance of direct invasion from the United States, by this would subject us to complaints and probable hostility from England and France as well as Spain. But Walker's rule is to be recognized and consolidated in Nicaragua. When this is effected, Nicaragua will be made the head quarters of the Cuban invaders. They will then have ground where they can organize their forces outside the jurisdiction of the United States; and our Government will be able entirely to evade the responsibility of the movement.

The letter of Gen. Goicoeuria confirms these views to the fullest extent. It is from himself, as a matter of course, is now, as he always has been, a devoted heart and soul to the redemption of Cuba. He knows her resources and the incalculable which prevents their development. He has felt the outrageous cruelty which characterizes her Government—has suffered in his own person and property from its injustice, and feels of necessity the deepest interest in her regeneration and enfranchisement. All this in him is perfectly natural, and proper; he would be as much less of a patriot and statesman than he is, if his concern in Cuba were less. It was perfectly natural, also, that he should seek the attainment of his object by whatever means held out the best promise of success; and we are not at all surprised, therefore, that he should have sought the aid of Gen. Walker, who seemed to be on the point of requiring precisely what was most needed for the conquest of Cuba—namely, a foothold from which the invasion could be carried on.

Frankly avowing, therefore, that his "first and last object was Cuba," General Goicoeuria tells us that last winter he sent an agent to Nicaragua, through whom Gen. Walker made an express agreement that he would "assist and cooperate with his person and his various resources, such as men and others, in the redemption of Cuba, after having consolidated the peace and Government of Nicaragua." Under this agreement General Goicoeuria went to Nicaragua and entered into Walker's service. That he was honored and trusted by Walker to the fullest extent, is clear from the tone of the letters which passed between them. He received from him an appointment as Minister to England, the main purpose of the mission being to open negotiations with England and secure for Nicaragua the port of San Juan, which should give them a naval force in the Caribbean Sea,—precisely the thing most needed for a successful invasion of Cuba. But he accompanied this letter with certain frank disclosures of his ulterior views, which did not at all suit the General with whom he was dealing. These views are stated in the following paragraph:—

With your versatility, and, if I may use the term, adaptability, I expect more than to be done in England, and you can do more than any American could possibly accomplish, because you can make the British Cabinet see that we are not engaged in any scheme for annexation. You can make them see that the only way to cut the expanding and expansive Democracy of the North, is by a powerful and compact Southern Federation, based on military principle.

It is needless for me to press you with the importance of this mission, for you no doubt feel it as deeply as I do.

I hope to hear from you every mail. Can you not make—write me a letter? Tell me—how must he send the news, and let me know whether "Cuba must and shall be free"—but not for the Yankees. Oh no! that fine country is not fit for those barbarous Yankees! What would such a palmspring set do in the Island?

Remember me to your family, and believe me, yours, sincerely,
WM. WALKER.
General D. de Goicoeuria.

It would be curious to know whose names filled the blanks in this letter, as published. Taken in connection with the act of Gen. Walker reviving Slavery in Nicaragua, which followed soon after, and the special declaration of sundry organs of the ultra Disunion sentiment in the South, there can be little doubt of the real meaning of this movement for a "powerful and compact Southern Federation," which was to "cut the expanding and expansive Democracy of the North." Gen. Walker was evidently playing a conspicuous and important part in it. He was laying the basis for that Southern Slave Empire of which sundry Southern papers have made frequent and mysterious mention, and of which several of the Southern States, as well as Cuba, Nicaragua, and Honduras, were to become members.

Gen. Goicoeuria, it seems, did not choose to become a party to any such schemes. He desired the independence of Cuba, and was also in favor of its annexation to the United States; but he does not favor any scheme of Disunion, nor the re-establishment of Slavery in Nicaragua.

These questions are to become more and more important with the progress of events. Mr. Buchanan will find himself, at the very outset of his Administration, compelled to deal with it. If he looks to the Ostend Manifesto, the Cincinnati Platform, the New Orleans Delta, and the Charleston Mercury, for his line of policy, he will plunge the country into embarrassments from which his own Administration will be unable to deliver it.

Southern Straws.

The Tone of the Southern Press is changing. The ultra, fire-eating, Pro-Slavery journals evince a consciousness of failure. They accuse Mr. Buchanan in advance, of treachery to their cause. This is a good symptom.

On the other hand, the sharp-sighted leaders of the Southern Democracy begin to suspect that the wind is North—or at least Northwest. The Richmond Enquirer has a very significant article, which is probably inspired by Governor Wise, who has just returned from Wheatland, evidently a wiser man than when he went thither. The Enquirer has, all through the canvass, been among the most zealous and intemperate of the Southern journals. It has urged the election of Mr. Buchanan upon the highest Pro-Slavery grounds—as a means of establishing the ascendancy of Slavery in the Federal Government, and as one step toward the ultimate establishment of Southern independence. Its rejoicings over his election were substantially in the same strain.

It finds out now, however, that the Democracy cannot afford to hold this tone longer. The Republican Party in the North is too strong,—too vigorous,—too vigilant and too certain to profit by whatever mistake the Administration may make, to render such a cause any longer safe. It complains that the Charleston Mercury and the New Orleans Delta prescribe to Mr. Buchanan a "policy which, in the nature of things, he cannot undertake." It appeals to them, earnestly and forcibly, not to place their support of his Administration on conditions which are "impossible." And it calls upon the Democratic Party of the South, to be prepared to give him a faithful and zealous support, even if his measures should not be fully up to the mark of their expectations.

We note these indications with pleasure. They give ground, if not for belief, certainly for hope, that Mr. Buchanan's prudence will get the better of his party and platform commitments,—that he will consult the peace, the quiet and the welfare of the country, rather than the theories of political schemers or the necessities of desperate sectionalists. Mr. Buchanan must know as well as any man living, the depth of earnestness of the hostility to the Extension of Slavery, which pervades the millions of the Free States. He must know that it is not a partisan impulse,—but a deeply rooted principle,—that it seeks not the ascendancy of any party, or the pronouncement of any man,—but the rescue of our free Territories from a blighting curse, and our free Republic from the tyranny of a dominant class. It looks to the end—not the means. And he cannot fail to see that, if he begins his Administration by making war upon this sentiment, and by pandering to the ambition of the Slave interests, he is doomed.

The extracts we make from the Southern papers indicate that they at last see and realize this fact also. The country may possibly, therefore, secure from their fears and their prudence, what it could not hope for from their patriotism.

Miscellaneous.

Holloway's Pills.—The stomach, by the chemical agency of its solvent fluids, converts the food into crude blood; the liver furnishes a secretion which fits it for the venous system; the lungs vitalize it. If the stomach is diseased, it cannot produce a healthful element, and if the fountain of life is infected, all the streams that flow from it must be poisoned. It is upon the stomach, the great feeder of the system, the manufacturer of the aliment which subsequently becomes the muscle, sinew and flesh, that Holloway's Pills exercise their salutary influence, curing indigestion in all its stages, and thus giving a vigorous tone to every dependent organ. This is the philosophy of the rapid and thorough cures of all the varieties of internal disease accomplished by this powerful remedy.

A Glorious Ambition!—Said the Scythian to ambassadors to Alexander, "If your person were as vast as your ambition, the world would not contain you." We have now in our midst a conqueror whose ambition is as boundless as Alexander's. The old world was too narrow a sphere for his exercise, and he has sought the new. We refer to Professor Holloway, whose desire to benefit mankind, unassisted by the countless cures his medicines have accomplished, is now actively engaged in revolutionizing the treatment of disease in this country. Conquest and subjugation are his objects—the conquest and subjugation of the various maladies that afflict the human race. The universal complaint against even the most popular medicines, that they were mere palliatives, relieving pain temporarily, perhaps, but never reaching the materia morbi, or element of disease in the blood, Holloway's Pills, on the contrary, act specially upon the primary cause of the malady in the fluids of the body, and from which they spring. In external disease the Ointment is used as an auxiliary to the Pills, and its sanative effects are scarcely less wonderful.

We make these assertions—bold as they may seem—on solid grounds. We have warrant for them in the admissions of the faculty—in the statements of standard medical periodicals on both sides of the Atlantic—in the published acknowledgments of thousands of grateful convalescents—and last, but not least, so far as our private convictions are concerned, in our own personal experience and observation.

To the man whose profound research and practical skill in medical sciences have resulted in the production of such unequalled cures, and whose business energy and enterprize have diffused them through every inhabited region between the Equator and the Poles, the homage of the world is due. He has received it. Wherever he has travelled his journeys have resembled a triumphal progress, and the most haughty of Europe's aristocracy have been proud to assist

On sale.

A beautiful tract of land in the Banda Oriental, composed of 6 leagues—bounded on North by the River Daiman which is a powerful stream; on the West by the arroyo de la Tuna, on the East by the Sauce, and on the South by a cuchilla forming a secure boundary.

This land is without exception the most favoured in that Province for its fine pasture and abundance of wood. Two other streams branch off from the Daiman making a natural division for three distinct establishments of two leagues each.

It is in the Department of Paisanó near the town of the Hervidero, and navigable to this last place. It is about 60 leagues from the Colombia and although apparently far off, all the lands being bought up in that intermediate space, by many English, German and Irish settlers, renders it invaluable for such as are desirous to settle in that State. No time should be lost by such as desire to receive lands in that Province at yet low prices. Particulars to be had at calle d. Representantes No. 293, at any hour in the morning before 10. j24-2p

THE FRIEND OF ALL.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

MIRACULOUS CURE OF GENERAL DROPSY.
Translation of a letter from Baboo Sorabjee Chetty, of Allahabad, dated 17th of October 1854.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY,
Sir:—For a number of years I suffered most intensely from general debility, disordered state of the liver, together with meagre and drowsy feelings, which were horrible in the extreme. I had advice from some of the most clever native physicians, but strange to state, my malady only increased. Being a strict Mussulman, I knew not what to do, (as the preparations of Europeans are forbidden by my holy religion,) but after wavering between two opinions for some time, I determined to try your Pills, and by the grace of Allah, they have been the means of my restoration to health. Although fifty-eight years of age, I am now as active as a boy, and have regained vigour in every sense of the word.

Accept my Salams, and believe me yours till death
(Signed) BABOO SORABJEE CHETTY.

AN INFALLIBLE REMEDY FOR DROPSY.
Extract of a letter from the Rev. Octavianus Martin of the London Mission, dated Mainman, May 19th 1844.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY,
Sir:—Among my various travels, I have observed with great satisfaction the beneficial effect of your Pills in many cases where medical skill has been defied, particularly, a most remarkable instance occurred (answering in this description) five months ago, and has ever been present since to my imagination, I deem myself therefore bound to make you acquainted with the facts. A poor woman, at this place, who appeared to me to be on the verge of death, was suffering dreadfully from this complaint she was tapped eight times, within six months, I visited her myself, and gave her a box of your pills, and after taking them, she seemed better; she continued them, and persevered for about nine weeks, when she was perfectly cured; and has since through the blessings of providence enjoyed the best of health. They are a truly invaluable remedy for females at the turn of life, and for young women with obstructions in their bowels.

Yours truly,
(Signed) OCTAVIANUS MARTIN.

WONDERFUL CASE!—DEATH ROBBED OF ITS VICTIM! ASTHMA CURED,—AFTER GIVEN UP BY ALL!

Copy of a letter from Charles Smith Esq., of Buenos, dated March 12th 1854.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY,
Sir:—I have been here for the last seven years and during the whole of that time, (till within the last five months) suffered incessantly with asthma, attended with continual vomiting of blood which completely stopped my constitution and deprived me of rest both day and night. I consulted a number of medical men at this station, but unfortunately my case was eventually given up, and my friends reluctantly admitted that all hope of recovery was past. In this pitiable condition I commenced using your Pills, after continuing them for 5 weeks the worst symptoms of my disorder disappeared and in three months I was completely cured. I still enjoy the best of health, and now relish the most simple food.

I remain Sir, your obliged Servant,
(Signed) CHARLES SMITH.

LIVER COMPLAINT OF FOURTEEN YEARS DURATION!

Copy of a letter from Mrs. Jane Thompson, (Widow of Lieut. Thompson) of Dinapore, dated the 18th of July, 1834.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY,

Sir:—For fourteen years I was in the most delicate state of health, suffering continuously from liver complaint, and indisposition, the least thing deterring me from attending to my ordinary avocations although my diet was the most simple and regular. Fortunately about ten months ago when my health seemed totally to have fled, a friend kindly advised me to try your Pills, which after some persuasion I commenced to use; I must confess they quickly produced a change for the better, and by continuing them, every symptom of my disorder disappeared and I am now perfectly cured; my health being better than it has been for the last fifteen years. I ought not to forget to mention, that my daughter aged sixteen who suffered considerably for two years, has just been restored to health by your invaluable Pills. I am, Sir, (an advocate for your system of medicine,) and your obedient Servant.

(Signed) JANE THOMPSON.

North American Seminary.

The Principal of the above Institution, having been engaged in the tuition of youth for more than 20 years in various countries, and having a familiar acquaintance with the system so successfully pursued in the United States, from which country he has just arrived, which has been reorganised and will be conducted with all the ability and energy, which long experience and success will enable him to diffuse into all its departments.

In addition to the usual branches of a thorough English education, the course of study will include Latin, French, Spanish, German, Mathematics, Book keeping, Music and Drawing.

In the young ladies department, special attention will be given to the polite and ornamental branches.

The Principal flatters himself that from long experience in teaching English to Spanish children, he will be particularly adapted to the Spanish youth of this City, who are desirous of learning that language.

Excellent and ample accommodations are made for the reception of boarding pupils, who will be under the constant supervision of the Principal.

A programme &c., can be obtained on application to the Principal, at No. 175 Calle Corrientes.
